

Funds To Provide Job Opportunities

Government funds have been made available to the college for providing jobs for students showing a definite financial need, according to Mrs. Florence Hertlein, Director of Financial Aids.

Funds, totaling $5,801, are to be divided between the college and the Lutheran Children's Home, Waverly. The government will supply 90 per cent of the wages, and the college will pay the other 10 per cent.

Purpose of the funds is to provide additional jobs to the present student employment program for this semester.

Jobs will range from custodial work, lab assistants, assistants to faculty members and tutoring, to assistance in recreation supervision.

Students interested in applying for a job may fill out an application in the Financial Aids Office. None of the jobs will exceed 15 hours of work per week. Applications should be filled out as soon as possible for early placement, according to Mrs. Hertlein.

Artist Series Mar. 7 To Feature Minstrel

Richard Dyer - Bennett, Twentieth Century troubadour and minstrel, will appear in the final program of the 1964-65 Artist Series, Sunday, March 7, at 8 p.m.

Dyer-Bennett, who was born in England and grew up in the United States, made his first appearance before a New York town hall audience in 1944.

For several years before his town hall appearance, Dyer-Bennett studied under Gertrude Wheeler Becker. She had heard him singing at a Christmas party at the University of California, Berkeley, Calif., where he was a music major.

She Sees His Potential

Realizing his potential, she persuaded him to let her instruct him in the ancient art of minstrel singing.

Later Dyer-Bennett traveled to Sweden to receive instruction in his art from Sven Scholander, a minstrel singer who had been popular in Europe before World War I.

Scholander was no teacher, but he sang for Dyer-Bennett. This alone enthused the young minstrel and started him on his unique career.

Debaters Rank In Top Ten At Eau Claire Tournament

Wartburg debaters ranked eighth among the top 10 teams participating in last weekend's debate tournament at Wisconsin State University, Eau Claire, Wis.

After competing in 10 rounds of debate against top schools from across the nation, both teams from Wartburg were rated excellent.

Juniors Lois Reyelts and Walt Buening, and sophomores Connie Meyer and Sue Stueber made up the two winning teams. Sophomore Ron McCollister and freshman Gary Monserud also competed in the tournament, but did not place.

121 Teams Compete

121 teams debated at Eau Claire, including such schools as the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.; the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.; and DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind.

Wartburg lost to Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn., which placed fifth in the tournament and is ranked third in the nation. This was their fourth loss to Macalester this year.

All six debaters took part in such individual events as discussion, oratory, after dinner speaking and interpretive reading. None of them placed, however.

Alpine Setting Transforms Campus As Snow Weekend Festivities Begin

Transformed into an Alpine Village, the campus enters its third day of Snow Weekend activities today. Complete with snow sculptures, an ice skating rink and an Alpine Village scene in the Den, activities will continue through tomorrow.

Snow Weekend events officially began Thursday evening with a pep rally in Knights Gymnasium.

In addition to skits and cheers, finalists for king and queen of Snow Weekend were announced.

Coronation of the king and queen was held last night, just before the musical production, "On Broadway Tonight." Juniors Marg Freeland and Ron Nelson were crowned Snow Weekend's royalty by Earnest Oppermann, dean of students.

Other Finalists

Other finalists were junior Carol Lee and senior Rog Sherman and junior Merdys Anderson and senior Bob Braun.

Snow Weekend Queen is the second such honor Marg has held at Wartburg. She was 1963 Spring Sports Queen.

An elementary education major, Marg is from Cambridge. She has been a cheerleader for the past three years and a student senator for the last two. She is also a member of Pi Sigma.

Ron Is Social Work Major

Ron transferred to Wartburg last year from North Dakota State University. He is a social work major and plans to enter the seminary after graduation.

A member of Ushers Club and Passavants, Ron was on this year's Homecoming Committee. He is also vice-president of the junior class and is from Fargo, N.D.

"On Broadway Tonight" presented a different approach to the usual Snow Weekend variety show.

Songs from Broadway musicals, along with dialogue by junior Carol Wessels, sophomore Ned Vaughn and senior Dave Hutson, carried the show along in the manner of an original musical production. The script was written by sophomore Al Lyndrup.

Suspense Movie Shown

"Footsteps in the Fog," a suspense movie starring Jean Simmons and Stuart Granger, was shown in the Chapel auditorium at 11 p.m. last night.

Womens' Judiciary Council sponsored a Penny Nite, allowing women to stay out an extra hour for a penny per minute.

Juniors Marg Freeland and Ron Nelson were crowned king and queen of Snow Weekend last night by Dean of Students Earnest Oppermann. Members of the royal court were junior Merdys Anderson and senior Bob Braun and junior Carol Lee and senior Rog Sherman.

Snow Weekend activities will continue today with the judging of snow sculptures this afternoon. The ice skating rink will also be open for skaters.

Dancing In TV Room

Students can dance in the TV Room of the Union today from 4 to 7 p.m., and the Iowa Intercollegiate Athletic Conference wrestling tournament will be held all day today in Knights Gymnasium.

Tonight will feature the Wartburg - Luther basketball game, followed by a dance in the gym. Peter Palmer and his band will play for the dance, which is informal.

According to Snow Weekend co-chairmen Dave Wegenast and Laird Yock, skirts, ski sweaters, bermudas or slacks are appropriate attire. Admission is one dollar per person, and students will have to dance in socks. No shoes will be permitted on the gym floor. Women will have one o'clock hours.

Yodeler's Holiday Is Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon, "Yodeler's Holiday," an informal program of folk songs presented by Castle Singers, will be held in Buhr Lounge at 2:30 p.m. Immediately after the program, clues will be given for "Alpina-search," a contest involving ticket stubs from weekend events, which will allow the winners to win up to $15.

Snow Weekend activities will close with a supper in the cafeteria sponsored by the junior class. The "Junior League of Rations" will be served from 5-6:30 p.m. The menu includes fried hamburgers, hot dogs, cold ham sandwiches, jello, potato chips and milk.

Each item will be separate so that students can pay for what they eat, according to Carol Meyer, supper chairman. Funds from the supper will go towards cutting down the price of prom tickets.

Braun Will Head Contribution Drive Week of Mar. 14

Senior Robert Braun has been selected by the Student Senate to serve as chairman of this year's Campus Chest Drive.

The committee, consisting of freshman Alice Heil, secretary; senior Dean Baer, publicity; and sophomore Larry Pleggenkuhle, solicitation; and Braun has been formulating organizational plans for the funds appeal, which will be held the week of March 14.

Goal has been set at $2,000. Funds will be distributed among six projects: American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, Christian Children's Fund, Lutheran Children's Home of Waverly, Student Memorial Fund and Adopt-A-Child Fund.

First four projects were chosen by students in Thursday's convocation, while the last two are being retained upon recommendation of last year's Campus Chest committee.

Art Project, Pops Concert Part of Senate Proposals

Student Senators have made several proposals and recommendations in the past few Senate meetings.

A proposal will be presented to the student body to amend the Student Body Constitution so that the student body president and student body secretary will receive remuneration for both semesters of their term of office.

Spring Pops Concert has been tentatively set for May 2. The Kingston Trio will appear. In conjunction with the Pops Concert an "all-campus sing" is being arranged for the same weekend.

Housing Units Prepare Skits

Various housing units will be asked to prepare musical skits and arrangements for the event. It will be held on May 1.

A group of frames is being purchased to be used when art exhibits are shown in the Union. The Art Department will provide art work at times when there are no exhibits so that there will always be some art in the Union.

Senate is also investigating the possibilities of purchasing art reproductions to be placed in the library for student rental.

Exchange Program Passed

The cultural exchange program has been passed by Educational Policies Committee and more information is being gathered for presentation to the faculty.

Senators made a recommendation to President Bachman that results of the cafeteria consultant's findings be presented in the next presidential report. The proposal met with favorable approval, according to Dave Hutson, student body president.

Douglas Is Pleased

Discussing the tournament, Donald Douglas, forensics director, said, "These were very excellent results. There were only five teams in the nation which were rated excellent."

"Praise and acclaim given to Wartburg debaters has been outstanding. They have been complimented by both judges and coaches from other teams."

Rankings at the Eau Claire tournament were as follows:

	W	L	TP
Eau Claire	9	1	169
Concordia College	8	2	167
U. of Minn.	8	2	163
St. Olaf College	8	2	159
Macalester College	7	3	155
U. of Mich.	7	3	154
St. John's University	7	3	151
Wartburg College	7	3	150
So. Dak. State U.	7	3	149
Marquette Univ.	6	4	146

Question Concerns Works

Debate question this year is, "Resolved: That the federal government should establish a national program of public works for the unemployed."

Debaters will travel to Morningside College, Sioux City, on March 11, 12 and 13 for the Iowa Intercollegiate Forensics Association Tournament.

Love It Up In Lounge

Several months ago in a student body meeting, Student Body President Dave Hutson made a wry comment about "watching the lovin' in the lounge," referring to the lounge in the Union.

Apparently his remarks hit home. Prior to that time and since, it seems that most students have been doing just that--watching the loving in the lounge.

It is not the policy of this paper, nor its staff, to remain either hostile or celibate. Yet the situation, particularly in Fuchs Lounge, has become disgusting to even our lenient viewpoint.

Lounges Are Informal

Lounges are made for an informal atmosphere, talking with friends, even companionship with members of the opposite sex. But lounges are not made to be, as the proverbial Wartburg term goes, the bushes. They are not private nesting or nestling places for love-hungry students.

It has become increasingly obvious, however, that many students are making ample use of the lounges for this very purpose.

It's not so bad for most of us students. We can usually figure out what's going on where and, in turn, avert our eyes or change positions so that we don't have to watch what some students apparently think is Wartburg's answer to the latest B movie.

Situation Is Uncomfortable

But it becomes rather uncomfortable and downright embarrassing to bring visitors to the lounge and subject them to the antics of these same students.

Certainly we do not condemn affection for the opposite sex. We're not against kissing, either. But when such activities turn the Union lounges into places where people cannot comfortably bring friends or guests, then it's time to examine the situation.

Winter is upon us. The situation invariably lets up in the spring, when the river is open for use and when it's not too cold to go for long, leisurely walks. But until that time is here, let's either find somewhere more private than Union lounges to express our affection, or tone down this expression. Enough said.

This is Snow Weekend. We are snowed under with papers, tests and projects -- as usual.

Who needs a skating rink when there are slidewalks!

It has been said that Iowa used to be a tropical region, but has changed because of the removal of a blanket of carbon dioxide in the air. Breathe heavily, everybody!

Snow is so much like life -- easy come, easy go.

Most people consider the day after Sunday to be "Blue Monday." At Wartburg it's a good day. It's the day the Den receives its weekly shipment of caramel apples.

Insecurity is going to the class which you cut the day before and discovering that you have a test in it.

Letter To The Editor

Student Feels Faculty Vote Lacks Mutual Consideration

To The Editor:

At the February meeting of the Wartburg Chapter of the Association of University Professors, Owen Jordahl and I were asked to present the first half of the program.

This part was an explanation of the rationale and implementation of the faculty evaluation form, which is being constructed by the Academic Life Committee of Student Senate.

After we left, members of the faculty who were present (12) passed a motion by a large majority favoring the self-evaluation program presently in effect, but opposing any evaluation initiated and administered by students.

Much Misunderstanding Prevails

There is a lot of misunderstanding concerning our proposal, much of it because of rumors.

For the last five months a subcommittee of Academic Life has been working on an evaluation form under the theory that student opinion is one valid criterion for evaluating teaching performance.

We worked up what the committee felt was a fine evaluation form and we did this with the aid of faculty members, administrators and students. Many ideas for implementation were also given, and we asked for serious consideration.

The Academic Life Committee has worked hard during the year to make significant contributions to the academic life of the Wartburg student. I feel our hard work deserved serious consideration, which it did not get.

Action Was Rude

The action of the AAUP was rude and did not show the mutual respect which certainly was in order. The motion itself does not question the validity of student evaluation, nor does it comment on the values or the deficiencies of it.

It does say that five months' work deserved no further consideration because it was done by students.

In the last week, many impolite and irrational statements have been made in the classroom and elsewhere. I cannot emphasize enough the honest intentions of my committee and our terrific consultant, Dr. Robert Dell.

Treatment Not Deserved

We do not deserve such treatment because we believe in something that apparently many do not.

The Academic Life Committee salutes a great faculty at Wartburg College, but we solicit more consideration and respect in the future.

Please don't forget that we too are working for a greater Wartburg--as hard and as well as we know how.

Sincerely,
Bill Hamm,
Academic Life Committee

Folkert's Folly

Week Brings No Thoughts

By JIM FOLKERTS

Well, another week is here, and I don't have anything to say. I could write about nothing again, but that confuses too many people. I could put the dollies down, but the editor doesn't like that.

I could say something about the sidewalks, but the janitors are angry now, and besides, they have been awfully clear lately anyway. Bushes are an interesting topic. However, we must not overuse them either.

The perversions in Becker's Blunders might be interesting to discuss, but we can tolerate some of those things if we take them with a grain of salt or two or six.

I could get very sarcastic about religion again, but some instructors might yell. Besides, because of the last article on this subject, I received an incomplete in Christianity last semester. Also, I've been threatened with excommunication.

Maybe if I write about something very ridiculously funny, I might receive a best story. Perish the thought. I could write about Waverly, but I wouldn't have time to rewrite that article as in times past.

Nothing sarcastic can be said about the cafeteria, because things have greatly improved. Praises to our departed and gallant food inspector.

Different smiles was an interesting topic, but no one is smiling any more. Convocation has been interesting and well attended lately, so that shoots that idea.

I could perhaps cut down Snow Weekend, but we better wait to see how everything turns out first. Maybe it will be a great success, especially if it follows what the convocation bulletins have had to say about it.

Oh, maybe everything is so perfect this week that there is nothing to spout off about. Better luck next week. Actually, it seems, everything I write about is either "illegal, immoral or fattening."

I have decided on a topic for this week, finally. Perhaps, though, since it promises to be a long and controversial subject, I had better wait for a later date.

I've been so agreeable so far that there is no point in trying to destroy attitudes against something this late in the article.

I will close and give you people a break.

Happy Belated Birthday, George. Have you got an extra cherry tree left? I'd cut that down, too!

'Ham' Here For Last Time; Knight Seniors In Finale

Tonight's Luther - Wartburg battle has a double touch of nostalgia to go along with the intense rivalry that has marked these contests through the years. When the Knights and Norskies tip off tonight at 7:30, it will be the last time that Luther's athletic director and head basketball coach Hamlet Peterson will bring his Norsemen into Knights Gym.

Tonight's game also marks the last home appearance of six senior Wartburg basketball players -- and what a way to bow out -- against the Norse.

Knights Up Record

Knights could up their record to 10-5 in the conference with a win tonight. Wartburg has already defeated Luther once this year, that win coming at Decorah.

Next Saturday night, Wartburg travels into the lion's den, as they meet head on with the Upper Iowa Peacocks at Fayette. UIU has already sewed up the Iowa Conference championship, but they have shown periods of vulnerability lately, even on their home court.

With five players in double figures, Wartburg raced to a 103-81 victory over Buena Vista in an Iowa Conference game last Saturday night.

Step Up Third Place

It was the second night in succession that Wartburg scored more than 100 points as they stepped up their drive for third place.

Central is currently in third place with a 9-4 mark, but the high-flying Knights are now 9-5 with two remaining conference games.

Wartburg hosts Luther here tonight and then travels to Fayette to take on the Peacocks, closing out the season.

Erase Early Lead

Knights erased an early Buena Vista lead here Saturday night when Cliff Cameron sank a field goal to put the Knights in front, 14-12, after six minutes of play.

After having a big 51-37 margin at the half, the Beavers threw a scare into the Knights as they came storming back, making 12 of their first 16 attempts from the field.

However, Wartburg quickly increased a 68-64 lead to 80-66, putting the game out of reach.

Wartburg shot 42 per cent from the field while Buena Vista was shooting 36 per cent.

Three Score Eighteen

Cameron, Gary Ludvigsen and Dennis Bowman each scored 18. John Hearn and Harold Shudlick each netted 16.

Loras College stopped Wartburg's five game winning streak Tuesday night as the Knights dropped a 92-84 decision at Dubuque.

Strong rebounding kept the Knights in the game as they managed to shoot only 30 per cent in the last 20 minutes of play.

Cameron led the Knight offense with 20 points, followed closely by Hearn with 19. Syverson and Bowman each scored 12.

Becker's Blunders

Norse Venture Forth

By MIKE BECKER

In trying to find something complimentary to write about, the Luther Norsemen, who are venturing down from their wintry hamlet to enter our vast slaughter house, I have been frustrated. I struck out. Nothing in the superlative category can be applied to the visiting Norsemen, but I must pay my highest compliments to their retiring athletic director and head basketball coach, Ham Peterson.

Coach Peterson has compiled an athletic record which makes the mouths of Wartburg coaches water. He has captured five Iowa Conference basketball crowns and four football crowns since his coaching start in 1922. Peterson joined the coaching staff at Luther the year after he graduated from there and has not left it since, except for a brief two-year stint in the service.

Peterson has put in 22 coaching seasons in football, 40 in basketball, 23 in baseball and 19 in track. He has devoted 43 years of his life to Luther athletics and has stood as a fine example to the maturing athlete.

We think we will be missing something when we graduate and are no longer able to attend a Wartburg-Luther battle -- think of him. Tonight when he is introduced as the Luther basketball coach, let's give a big hand to a man respected by all.

This weekend should be the busiest of the year as far as athletics are concerned. Things have been building up all week, and tonight they reach fever pitch with the annual Knight-Norsemen brawl. This is the night we've been waiting for -- the time to run off another 100-pointer.

Last weekend proved something to me and to every Wartburg ally. We have what it takes to close this season out with two big wins. In my opinion, a team, which rises to beat the number two team in the conference while breaking a school scoring record in the process, is a tough team.

But the real toughness was exhibited the next night in coming out and beating one of the cellar dwellers and again topping 100 points. This is the mark of a sure team.

Everybody from the local druggist to the players themselves was predicting a big letdown the second night and maybe even a loss. But this was a nightmare which never materialized, and rightly so, for we were better, much better, than either vanquished club.

Balanced scoring and tremendous rebounding did the job for us. A special defense devised especially for Iowa Wesleyan put the clamps on it and held down its vaunted fast break.

Tonight is the night. Youngsters, forsake your idle play; students, your studies; parents, your TV nights; and join the hordes invading the "home of the Knights." Come early and see the frosh win.

For the third installment of my search for the perfect composite girl, we deal with the subject of eyes. Top contenders in this category are Miss Margaret Freeland (Clinton basement) and Miss Judy Hendrickson (North Hall I). Indeed, they are fine specimens.

Next week we shall deal with the "figures" everyone has been waiting for, the curvature of the spine. Check out the honeys, and let's be for making up your minds as to the perfect jigsaw puzzle.

Wartburg II Stays Perfect By Getting Past Off-Campus

By MARY KROHLOW

Playing like the champion it is, Wartburg II remained undefeated Wednesday night in the fourth round of the Women's Recreation basketball tournaments.

Off-campus received its first defeat at the hands of the skillful Wartburg team with a score of 34-29. Scoring leaders for the game were sophomore Nancy Nuss with 14, and freshman Jean Lowry with 10, both of Wartburg II.

If Off-campus could have fired up a little earlier than the fourth quarter, it might have been able to upset the high-riding Wartburg team.

Vollmer Stays In Running

Vollmer stayed in the running for first place with a rather stunning victory over Centennial Ground-III.

The Centennial team, which had only six of its players show up for the game, had a few problems in trying to guard senior Ardis Janssen, who scored 10 points in the first quarter.

Scrappy guard, junior Sue Sutliff, gave it a good try and held Janssen to only five points in the rest of the game. Centennial played the remaining minutes of its game with only five players when Sutliff fouled out.

Hebron II won its first game of the season by defeating winless Wartburg III. Both teams presented a well-rounded scoring effort, but the Hebron six managed to sneak through with a 22-20 win. Hebron II also managed to have more fun than any other team.

Hebron Plays Best Game

Hebron I played its best game of the season so far in defeating Wartburg IV by a score of 37-9. Both teams had well-rounded scoring, except that the Wartburg six didn't make the scoring columns until the second half.

Next week will be the final round of the tournament, unless Wartburg II and Vollmer have to face each other in a play-off for first place.

Following are the standings in the WRA tournaments:

	W	L
Wartburg II	4	0
Vollmer	3	0
Off-campus	2	1
Centennial I-II	2	1
Centennial Ground-III	2	2
Hebron I	2	2
Hebron II	1	2
Wartburg III	0	4
Wartburg IV	0	4

Luther Matmen Defeat Knights

The heavyweight class decided the outcome of the dual wrestling meet between Luther and Wartburg Wednesday.

Heavyweight Don Miller of Luther was able to edge out heavyweight Al Anderson 2-0, enabling Luther to post an 18-12 victory. This, the final dual meet of the season for Wartburg, evened their season dual meet record at 5-5.

Dave Long, wrestling in the 137-pound class, pinned Roger Kittleson. Jim Brandau decisioned Neil Skaar 6-4 in their 157-pound match.

Remaining Wartburg points came from draws by Larry Snitker and Terry Tellefson in the 167 and 177-pound matches.

Today Wartburg wrestlers are making their bid for the Iowa Wrestling Championship in Knights Gymnasium.

'Graveyard' Shift Works Late To Keep Union In Good Repair

By ARDYS HOYT

Each night, long into the wee hours when most of Wartburgians are busy sleeping or studying, a special group of guys is hard at work on the "graveyard" shift at the Student Union.

These men are the night janitors, who are responsible for keeping the Union clean and in good shape. There are two crews, which alternate by working every other night, to perform these duties.

Sophomore Doug Miller heads one crew consisting of juniors Curt Trager and Rick Gumz, sophomore Art Alt and freshmen John Graves and Tom Thompson. Senior Dave Lundt is foreman for junior Robbin Childers, sophomore Gary Waller and freshmen Leon Ul-ferts and Jim D'Amico.

Miller says, "There's more to the job than meets the eye. When I started, I didn't think there would be much to do, but you'd be surprised how much there is to do in that building."

Duties Often Tedious

Their duties include such tedious pastimes as sweeping, dusting, polishing the furniture, washing windows and cleaning walks. They also sweep the pool tables, scrub and wax the floors, vacuum the rugs, haul out the garbage, service the lavatories and do minor repair work.

Union janitors are also responsible for sweeping the walks around the Union or shoveling them after a snow. At times they assist the night man in clearing all of the campus walks after it snows.

Probably the most undesirable aspect of the job is the hours. From Sunday through Thursday, according to Miller, the crew begins work at 10:30 p.m. On Friday and Saturday nights they don't begin until 12.

Dance Or Snow Lengthen Job

On an average night it takes from two-and-a-half to three hours to complete the job. After a dance or a snow, the task may take from four to five hours.

This schedule tends to distort the boys' sleeping habits. Still, some of them manage to have regular attendance at their 8 o'clock class and participate in extra-curricular activities.

Most of the students accept their job and its demands good-naturedly. Trager says, "It has bad hours, but it's not so bad. I don't mind it."

Some Desirable Aspects

Some even find desirable aspects to it, such as Lundt

who states, "It's quiet. Everything is asleep and it's peaceful. It's different from the hustle and bustle of the day-time."

Gumz, the newest member of the crew, comments, "I'm kind of passive about it. It's a job."

Major complaints of the janitors concern the students' disrespect to the property in the Union and their indifference to the Union rules. Students fail to leave the Den at its closing time, 10 p.m., and the building at 10:30. This hinders the janitors from starting their jobs.

Ash Trays Not Used

Some students who use the game room and the card section of the lounge do not use the ash trays provided to extinguish their cigarettes. This results in burns in the tile. Extra work is required of the janitors to remove these burns and re-wax the floors.

Cokes, which are carelessly spilled and objects which are strewn around the floor in the Den also create extra work for the guys.

Keeping the Union clean is a big job, even bigger when one considers the hours involved for the "graveyard" shift.

Business Concerns Will Interview All Interested Graduating Seniors

Four business concerns will interview this week for job openings with their companies.

Rath's, Waterloo, will be represented Monday by William J. Ward. College seniors are being recruited for positions in market research, sales, sales promotion and product marketing.

D. Berkley Smith will interview business administration or liberal arts majors for General Adjustment Bureau, Inc., Waterloo, Tuesday. Positions available are in the claims adjustment department.

Wednesday, J. C. Albaugh from Firestone Tire Company, Des Moines, will talk with seniors interested in the fields of retailing, sales, credit, accounting or retread sales management.

Seniors with business majors, chemists, engineers, accountants and liberal arts graduates are invited to talk with representatives from Wilson & Company, Cedar Rapids, on Thursday.

Positions in plant management, product management, merchandising, economic research, law, advertising, traffic management and personnel management are available with this company.
